~~A.~~ SECTION 213.0~~.~~ DEFINITIONS

(3) "Consent"~~-~~*

(a) "Consent" for purposes of Article 213 means a person's willingness to engage in a specific act of sexual penetration or sexual contact.

(b) Consent may be ~~expressed~~express or it may be inferred from behavior~~, including words and conduct~~ —both action and inaction—in the context of all the circumstances.

~~(b) Notwithstanding subsection (3)(a) of this Section, behavior does not constitute consent when it is the result of conduct specifically prohibited by Section [reserved].~~

(c) Neither verbal nor physical resistance is required to establish ~~the~~that consent is lacking, but their absence ~~of consent, but lack of physical or verbal resistance~~ may be considered, in the context of all the circumstances, in determining whether ~~the person has consented~~there was consent.

~~(d~~(d) Notwithstanding subsection (3)(b) of this Section, consent is ineffective when it occurs in circumstances described in Sections [reserved].

(e) Consent may be revoked or withdrawn any time before or during the act of sexual penetration or sexual contact. ~~Lack of consent or revocation or withdrawal of consent may be overridden by subsequent consent.~~

~~(e)~~ A clear verbal refusal—such as "No," "Stop," or "Don't"—~~suffices to establish~~ establishes the lack of consent or the revocation or withdrawal of previous consent

~~.~~. Lack of consent or revocation or withdrawal of consent may be overridden by subsequent consent.

* Approved by Annual Meeting, May 2016; Approved by Council Oct. 2016.