Chart 1: Development and Sources of FIPPs

HEW - The Code of Fair Information Pr., 1973	The Code of Fair Information Practices of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare represents the first articulation of FIPPs. http://epic.org/privacy/consumer/code_fair_info.html
OECD - Privacy Principles, 1980	As privacy law continued to evolve, the OECD, a group of 33 leading industrial countries concerned with global economics and development, proposed their influential OECD Privacy Principles. http://oecdprivacy.org/
APEC - Privacy Framework, 2005	APEC, an organization of 21 Pacific Rim countries, introduced FIPPs in order to enable multinational businesses to implement uniform approaches to the use of personal data. The resulting guidelines strongly reflect the OECD Privacy Principles. http://www.apec.org/Groups/Committee-on-Trade-and-Investment/~media/Files/Groups/ECSG/05_ecsg_privacyframewk.ashx
DHS - Fair Information Practice Princ., 2008	The Privacy Office at the Department of Homeland Security's FIPPs resemble the OECD Privacy Principles as well. http://www.dhs.gov/xlibrary/assets/privacy/privacy_policyguide_2008-01.pdf
White House - Consumer Privacy Bill of Rights, 2012	The Consumer Privacy Bill of Rights published by the White House aims to apply comprehensive and globally recognized FIPPs for purposes of consumer protection. https://Obamawhitehouse.archives.gov/sites/default/files/privacy-final.pdf
FTC - Privacy Framework and Impl. R., 2012	Recently, the Federal Trade Commission issued a major report about privacy, which also included FIPPs. http://ftc.gov/os/2012/03/120326privacyreport.pdf
Privacy Act, 1974	Among the early statutes that include FIPPs is the Privacy Act. It regulates the collection, use, and disclosure of personal data by federal agencies. (5 USC § 552a)
HIPAA, 1996	Pursuant to HIPAA, the Department of Health and Human Services promulgated regulations of the privacy and security of medical information. (45 CFR §§ 160, 162, 164)
Gramm–Leach–Bliley Act (GLB), 1999	The GLB Act seeks both to facilitate data sharing among financial institutions and their affiliates and to protect customer privacy. It contains FIPPs as well. (15 USC § 6801 et seq., 16 CFR §§ 313, 314)
PIPEDA (Schedule 1), 2000	PIPEDA is a Canadian privacy statute that regulates all private-sector entities that collect personal information on Canadians and personal information used in connection with any commercial activity. http://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/P-8.6/index.html
EU Directive - EU Data Protection Directive, 1995	The EU Data Protection Directive's goal is to facilitate the free flow of personal information within the EU by establishing an equally high privacy level in all Member States. It is not directly binding, but implemented on the national level by each country. http://eur-lex.europa.eu/LexUriServ/LexUriServ.do?uri=CELEX:31995L0046:EN:HTML
EU Regulation - EU General Data Protection Regulation, 2016	The EU General Data Protection Regulation is the proposed successor to the EU Data Protection Directive. It seeks to update privacy law within the EU with a single law that will be immediately binding on all EU member states. http://data.consilium.europa.eu/doc/document/ST-5419-2016-INIT/en/pdf
NAI Code of Conduct (Section II.), 2020	The Network Advertising Initiative (NAI), an industry trade group, develops self-regulatory standards for online advertising, among which are the NAI Code of Conduct. https://www.networkadvertising.org/sites/default/files/nai_code2020.pdf
AICPA Privacy Management Framework, 2020	The American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) and the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) developed a set of FIPPs to be used by companies in their self-regulation of privacy. It was revised in 2009 and renamed GAPP. In 2020 it was updated as the Privacy Management Framework. https://www.aicpa.org/interestareas/informationtechnology/privacy-management-framework.html
DAA Self-Regulatory Princ. for OBA, 2009	The Digital Advertising Alliance (DAA) is an organization that provides a self-regulatory FIPPs regime for interest-based advertising. https://digitaladvertisingalliance.org/sites/aboutads/files/DAA_files/seven-principles-07-01-09.pdf
GSMA Mobile Privacy Principles, 2012	The GSMA is an association of mobile operators and related companies devoted to supporting the standardization, deployment, and promotion of the GSM mobile telephone system. It also released a self-regulatory framework containing FIPPs. https://www.gsma.com/publicpolicy/wp-content/uploads/2012/03/GSMA2016_Guidelines_Mobile_Privacy_Principles.pdf
